Media Release : Restructuring for future growth and development

Simon National Carriers has announced several changes to their executive team. The changes are intended to lead Simon into their next phase of growth and development which will include an expansion in the range of services they have traditionally provided to their customers.

- Executive Chairman.
  After 20 years as CEO David Simon has stepped up to the new position of Executive Chairman. In this new role David will concentrate on developing the future strategy for the business, working with the Board and a newly appointed CEO.

  "Whilst I will continue to be active in various aspects of the business, the day to day management of the business will from now on be handled by our new CEO." David said.

  "My time as CEO has been extremely rewarding and I have thoroughly enjoyed the interaction I have had with our valued customers who have grown with us over our 50 year history."

  "I'd like to acknowledge the support of my executive team over the years and particularly when they stepped up and allowed me to take significant time away from the business during my term as Chair of the Australian Trucking Association. I'd like to express my sincere thanks to each and all of you."

- CEO.

  Clive Barrett has been appointed CEO of Simon National Carriers. He commenced in the role on 24 May 2016. Clive has had a long and successful career in supply chain management in Australia and overseas. He was also Joint COO of Laura Ashley Ltd (UK), a leading UK high street retailer and then CEO of Metrojaya Bhd Sdn, a renowned department store group in Malaysia until he and his wife returned to Australia in 2012. Clive is known for being customer focused and for the work he has done in optimising the supply chains of many blue chip companies.

  "I'm delighted to be joining Simon National Carriers. I've known the company for more than 25 years, and have had a great deal of respect for it specialised services and reputation the company has established over many years. The company's focus on safety and compliance is also impressive and a benchmark for the industry" Clive said.

  "In my new role I look forward to working with David and the management team in steering the business in its next phase of growth and development".
